

Contents

Tobias Delfs and Heike Liebau Introduction: A Historical Source in the Mirror of Different Research Approaches . . . . .	1
Chapter 1 Michael Mann Madras City, 1630s–1740s: Approaching the Social History of a Changing Urban Landscape . . . . .	13
Chapter 2 Heike Liebau The Missionary Benjamin Schultze (1689–1760) and his Linguistic Studies . . . . .	49
Chapter 3 Gérald Duverdier The Work in Telugu of Benjamin Schultze . . . . . Paula Schnabel Epilogue . . . . .	77 125
Chapter 4 Georg Berkemer Can we Learn Telugu with Schultze-gāru? A Report on the Annotated Digital Transcription of Benjamin Schultze’s Gesprächsbuch . . . . .	127
Chapter 5 Lisa Mitchell Ideologies of Culture and Language in the 1730 Dialogues of Benjamin Schultze . . . . .	141
Chapter 6 Nicola McLelland Benjamin Schultze’s (1750) Dialogue Book about Madras and the Learning of English in Eighteenth-Century Germany . . . . .	159

Chapter 7

Rekha Kamath Rajan

The Power of Language and the Language of Power
 Benjamin Schultze's Telugu-English Dialogue Book. . . . . 187

Chapter 8

Vidhya Raveendranathan

Beyond and before Orientalism and Advice Manuals: Oeconomy,
 Arithmetical Thinking, and Management of Servants in Eighteenth Century Madras. . . . . 205

Chapter 9

Tobias Delfs

Food and Drink in Benjamin Schultze's Dialogue Book on Madras . . . . . 223

Chapter 10

Niels Brimnes

The Curious Absence of Caste in Benjamin Schultze's
 Tract The Large and Renowned Town. . . . . 243

Index of Names. . . . . 259

Index of Places . . . . . 262